

CIVIL JUDGMENT

Purpose: This form is used by the court to formally issue a judgment in a civil action.

How: According to a judge's order, the clerk prepares the judgment for signature. After the judge signs the judgment, the clerk transmits the copies.

Copies: The original is stored in the court case file.
A copy is give to the plaintiff, defendant and their advocates.

Notes: The following sample judgment form should probably be used only for relatively simple judgment/orders. A longer narrative-type judgment/order should be prepared for cases that are more complex.

The following sample form provides space for entry of satisfaction of judgment, which must be signed by the person in whose favor judgment was rendered and by the clerk of court when satisfaction of judgment is recorded.
